Adler Group and Holly Sime Realty have merged to form Adler Holly Management. Both real estate firms recognized a need by building owners for high quality collective leasing and management services.

Adler Group's 50 plus years of experience in property management services, combined with Holly Sime Realty's exceptional leasing group, creates a dynamic team ready to take on office, flex and industrial management for institutional quality clients.

Additionally, both companies take part in the green building initiative. Recently, a group of Adler executives became LEED AP certified.
